

THE SOLARI REPORT

INTRODUCTION

Welcome to The Solari Report.

Today is Thursday, March 22, 2018

I am Catherine Austin Fitts and I am delighted that you could join me this evening.

“Those who are awake live in a state of constant amazement!”

We are in a wild ride and it is far from over.

New Solari Report Website

Launch PHASE I OF THE NEW WEBSITE Friday am Tomorrow -
Said this last week – but this week I am confident it will happen!....

- Splash Page
- Link to New Software
- Return to Splash Page/Login
- Log in to Members
- Phase I up
- Once

Very spiritual experience – rather not say too much as the more I say the more headwinds I create- will discuss in more detail after we have both phases launched.

Between Solari Anniversary and
Easter and the Resurrection

Thank you again – keep things up at Constitution.solari.com and pension.solari.com to make sure easy access

SO APPRECIATE YOUR SUPPORT DURING THIS PROCESS

AUSTRALIA trip

Uluru –

Richard Dolan, Jason Bawden Smith
1 for May 8-12 and 4 for May 13-17th

First come first serve

Why worth considering:

Opportunity to be with this many freethinking people

Life changing trip

customerservice@solari.com

Darlene and I happy to discuss with you

SAN FRANCISCO

June 2 luncheon in San Francisco on way back from Australia and NZ

MEXICO CITY – Today

According to the most recent definition agreed upon by the federal and state governments, the population of Greater Mexico City is 21.3 million, which makes it the largest metropolitan area of the Western Hemisphere, the tenth-largest agglomeration, and the largest Spanish-speaking city in the world.^[18]

International Award for Journalism for 2017 from the National Press Club of Mexico – for the independent journalists.

SPEECH WILL BE POSTED IN COMMENTARY ON NEW SITE
– VIDEO COMING

1 problem of journalists in Mexico – assassinations - 13 last year, 11 in 2016, 4 or 5 so far this year. In US it was natural health care doctors and practitioners.

IN US – before they kill you, they must kill your name

We are struggling with the same problems – squeezing out of the middle class the same here.

In Gratitude to
Club de Periodistas de México, A.C. for
International Award for Journalism
March 22, 2018
Mexico City

What a privilege it is to be with you today. I am very grateful to Club de Periodistas for making this possible and for your support of excellence in journalism.

Our civilization is coming to a fork in the road. Do we choose to have a human future or will we allow a culture to emerge through force and new technology that is inhuman? Ultimately this is a spiritual question. This is why journalism today often feels like spiritual warfare. Will we govern our world with faith and divine intelligence or allow machine intelligence that serves the secretive few to control and manipulate us?

Journalists make it possible for busy people to understand what is happening and to make wise daily choices to ensure that we act both in our own best interests as well as in the best interests of our wider communities.

In Philadelphia in the summer of 2000, I asked a group of 100 people at a conference of spiritually committed people who would push a red button if it would immediately stop all narcotics trafficking in their neighborhood, city, state and country. Out of 100 people, 99 said they would not push such red button. When surveyed, they said they did not want their retirement savings to go down in value if the U.S. financial system suddenly stopped attracting an estimated $500 billion-$1 trillion a year in global money laundering. They did not want their government checks jeopardized or their taxes raised because of resulting problems financing the federal government deficit.

What I discovered that day was that these well educated, spiritually committed people did not see a pathway to transact their way out of our financial addictions to global criminal enterprise. So it became my mission to help them see and live the opportunity.

For most of my professional career, I was an investment banker or investment advisor. What I learned was that the existing wealth on planet Earth is 1% or less of what it could be – so great is the cost of a secret governance system whose primary operations are defined by force and war.

There are many solutions to these problems. They begin with journalists bringing the sunshine that says, “Yes, we can understand our world. Yes, things can work!” When I look at your magazine, Voces Del Periodista, it “shouts” out that intention, “Yes, we can!”

It is our job to hold out the vision that the human race can invent our future – one without financial addictions to ill health, slavery and war and to support millions of pathways that can and will make it so.

My company Solari has silver coins minted to give as gifts. I brought several to say thank you for your leadership. On one side is our logo – a solar armillary. An armillary is a tool of alignment. On the other side of our coin its states the golden rule “Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.”

Our job as journalists is to help 7 billion people understand their world so that they can figure out HOW to make wise choices in their daily lives. How can we align our efforts so that justice is a reality for every man, woman and child? When millions of people have the information they need to make wise choices, a mighty army arises.

This is why what you are doing and your vision is so necessary and so powerful.

Ladies and Gentlemen, thank you again for this great honor, for the opportunity to be with you and to have this time in Mexico

~Catherine Austin Fitts, Publisher, The Solari Report

EUROPE – SUMMER AND FALL

July – Eastern Europe - Sofia and Bucharest

August – Western Europe - Germany, Switzerland, France, Netherlands

Hope to go to Vienna –

October - Italy

FLASH WARNING

Interview with Edwin Vieira on Militias – Comment on below just what we need!

On 3/20/18 6:09 PM, Cynthia McKinney wrote:

Hi Cynthia, let me begin with my gratitude for your enduring work. I write to ask you to join a google group created for the purpose of planning our path to update the US constitution for our feminine concepts and complete participation. Your voice and ideas and leadership is required for the work of the group to be strong. My name is Emily Peyton, I provide behind the scenes leadership. My work ahead to bring together women public leaders to confer on the most salient points so that when we call for a longer women's strike next women's day, we will have clarity on what our commands are upon revisiting the Constitution for the inclusion of feminine concepts and annulling the current wrongs that some call treason, that are now in play through a Women's Constitutional Convention. The public may not get the full implications of what we can do and will do, but the public leaders- will have clarity and redundancy of mission. Women of maturity who are able to work in a creative and supportive manner together are in this group. My email is emilypeyton2012@gmail.com I will need an email to add you to the group, I want to count on your participation as a principle participant and recipient of the benefit of our think tank work Thank you.

ENFORCE THE CONSITUTION – these are all Trojan horses to get the thing opened up.

30 SECOND BREAK

THEME TONIGHT: THE FED CHASES LIBOR – THE GLOBAL SQUEEZE IS ON – TRIGGERS GLOBAL GAME OF MUSICAL CHAIRS

Publishing our FED piece next week – Constitution.solari.com – Connection to $21 Trillion Missing-See Treasury and Fed Section

Fed raises Fed Fund rates

The time of freely printing money and debt is over

Raises the costs of all businesses and all goods globally in favor of the bankers – global cost of capital raise

Result – acceleration of expenses and indebtedness throughout the system – ex this week in News Trends & Stories : US government debt, WSJ - water bills increasing on average 5.5% a year as a result of reinvestment to upgrade water systems (read deferred maintenance – this is going to be a much wider spread issue on local and municipal expense structures)

FOCUS ON HOW YOU ARE GOING TO ADDRESS- your time and money – rising friction –

Falling interest rates since 1980 – this is a fundamental change in paradigm. Government money no longer free

- The Fed announced it will raise the benchmark Fed funds rate to a range between 1.5% and 1.75%.
 - The Federal Open Market Committee also released its quarterly "dot plot," showing where Fed members expect rates to go in the next few years.
 - The median member predicts rates will be between 2% and 2.5% by the end of this year.
-

The Federal Reserve just announced, as widely expected, that it intends to raise the benchmark fed funds rate to a range between 1.5% and 1.75%. The central bank also gave us an idea about what its policymakers think is coming in the future.

The "dot plot," part of the Federal Open Market Committee's Summary of Economic Projections released along with its policy decision statement, shows where each participant in the meeting thinks the fed funds rate should be at the end of the year for the next few years and in the longer run.

The Fed releases those predictions in a chart that includes a dot for each of the members at their target interest rate level for each period.

While the "dot plot" is not an official policy tool, it provides some insight into how committee members feel about economic and monetary conditions going forward. Indeed, several commenters on Wall Street consider the chart to be pretty important, as it could give a sense of how many more hikes are coming in the next year.

The median member again saw the rate ending 2018 in a range between 2% and 2.5%, suggesting three hikes this year. The median dot projects rates to settle at 2.9% by the end of 2019, and 3.4% in 2020. That's up from 3.1% in the most recent projections released in December.

The new dot plot is very similar. The median member again saw the rate ending 2018 in a range between 2% and 2.25%, suggesting two more hikes this year. Over the longer term, the median member expects rates to settle around 3%

Morgan Stanley Libor

Yesterday, Citi's Matt King confirmed as much in a lengthy note explaining why the blowing out Libor, and Libor-OIS spread, are sending increasingly ominous signals:

LIBOR is still the reference point for the majority of leveraged loans, interest-rate swaps and some mortgages. In addition to that direct effect, higher money market rates and weakness in risk assets are the two conditions most likely to contribute towards mutual fund outflows. If those in turn created a further sell-off in markets, the negative impact on the economy through wealth effects could be greater even than the direct effect from interest rates.

Now, another bank has joined the growing chorus of warnings over the soaring Libor and Libor-OIS.

Jonathan Garner, Morgan Stanley's Chief Strategist for Asia and Emerging Markets, told Bloomberg that the rising Libor rates is a bigger concern right now than a more hawkish Federal Reserve, and in fact, is "the story of the year."

As we have documented nearly daily, most recently yesterday, Libor has been rising since Feb. 7 for 31 consecutive sessions, reaching 2.2711% this morning, the highest since 2008. Meanwhile, its gap over risk-free rates, known as the Libor-OIS spread, has more than doubled since the end of January to 55.6 basis points, a level unseen since 2009.

"That's a key reason why markets have struggled. The acceleration in the private borrowing market is the story of the year, not the Fed," Garner told BloombergQuint in an interview.

What I think is really interesting is that in the private, LIBOR markets, the USD Libor has already moved far more aggressively than Fed Funds, so if you look at 6M USD Libor, it's actually reached 2.375% whereas the Fed is likely to raise Fed Funds by a quarter of a point to 1.75%, so we've actually already for the interest rate that really determines corporate costs are experiencing a very significant increase in interest rates. So unless the Fed is in some ways super dovish, I think we're already looking at a significant tightening of monetary policy in the US and in addition China is tightening monetary policy at the same time and this joint tightening is a key reason why we are so cautious on markets.

To those who say that all that matters today is whether the Fed is hawkish or dovish, and whether it suggests 3 or 4 hikes for 2018, Garner counters that "it's not actually the Fed that's in the driver's seat in relation to corporate costs of funding. The Dollar Libor markets, which is actually where corporates borrow, have already moved to 2.375% for 6 month money and that's a key reason why markets have struggled, because the acceleration and the tightening up of private markets is the story of the year, not the Fed."

What does that mean for global markets?

Our thesis for the year was a rougher ride and we had a number of things we're concerned about, the reduction in the Fed's balance sheet and actually the fiscal easing in the US is probably one of the reasons why private money markets are getting so tight. There's some evidence that the Treasury Bill issuance is actually crowding out private borrowers to some extent and at the same time we have exceptionally high valuations for non-financials part of global equities, and overly optimistic earnings expectations.

Garner concludes by echoing what Morgan Stanley's chief economist, Mike Wilson, said on Monday: "this sets us up for a market which we are pretty sure reached its highs for the year in the euphoria of the third week of January and the rest of the year is quite simply going to be a tough market."

It could get much worse: not only does Libor tend to be a 3-month leading indicator to the dollar, which as Citi showed yesterday would mean a surge in the USD, sending shockwaves across global risk markets...

but just as concerning is that the global funding shortage indicated by the soaring Libor-OIS is finally hitting financial credit risk, and as we showed earlier today the IG OAS is once again moving wider...

... while bank CDS have spiked to 6 month wides

the worst aspect of this sharp tightening in financial conditions is that virtually nobody has a coherent explanation what is causing it, or what the outcome will be: "We usually don't see this kind of divergence in rates without some sort of credit issue," said Margaret Kerins, head of fixed-income strategy at BMO Capital Markets Corp., referring to the surge in Libor-OIS. "At what point does all this become damaging and how far does it go? That is the issue."

We conclude with a quote from Brean Capital's Russ Certo: "There has been sort of the perfect storm of factors tightening financial conditions."

Big banks –big bankers are out marketing for bank deposits with scare tactics

CRIME PAYS

Big 3 Banks See $2.4 Trillion in New Deposits Since Financial Crisis

Americans responded to the financial crisis of 2008 by adding $2.4 trillion in new deposits at the biggest three U.S. banks, an increase of 180%, according to an analysis of data by the Wall Street Journal.

JPMorgan Chase (JPM), Bank of America (BAC) and Wells Fargo (WFC) were the beneficiaries of the depositing increase.

The irony is that the question coming out of the crisis was whether the American financial system was concentrated in the hands of the too few, "too big to fail." It seems Americans responded to the question by concentrating even more wealth in those too few hands.

If you can get away with bailouts and Madoff, then you must be secure right?

SENATE PASSES Bank Regulatory Relief for smaller institutions –Have not looked at it yet. Small banks need regulatory relief – a lot of unnecessary regulation added to the people who did not cause the bailout problems.

This change in cost of capital will accelerate change and a reshuffling of the deck in every aspect of life and work. Hard to overemphasize how profound it will be.

Triggering a global game of musical chairs – much of the geopolitical craziness is coming from financial coup being over, the purges ensuing and higher interest rates raising cost of capital to people who are used to have it for free.

Remember – as interest rates rise, the people who stole all the money can now make more money on their money.

PLEASE NOTE - Venezuela city creates local currency – no cash. Get ready to do the same in your area in 2-5 years – one of the things mind control/cell tower network may be designed to prevent creation of currency that don't get sucked out so may not work where you are depending on conditions. However, every place could benefit from much greater liquidity created by local currencies or using gold and silver as currencies.

30 SECOND BREAK

MONEY & MARKET'S

US DOLLAR INDEX

-2.56%

(91.83–89.47)

Fixed Income:

Good time to roll up in short term deposits – 2.0% for 12-13 month deposit when rates are rising – why not just take advantage?

TLT

-4.81%

IEF -2.54%

AGG -2.05%

JNK -1.88%

Equities:

SPY -0.80%

Good time to be hedged, not a good time to go in – still looking at a 10-25% correction

XHB -8.11%

VGK -2.70%

EWG -4.00%

EFA -2.29%

Certainly looks like a breakdown – but too early to tell.

FXI 2.06%

HAO 3.18%

EEM 1.57%

Commodities

$CRB 0.71%

(193.86-195.23)

GLD 1.88%

News of Russia stockpiling accelerating – others too? Has not been hammered too badly by rising interest rates – should be sensitive

SLV -3.44%

OIL 10.09 % 3.32

The King Report March 20, 2018 Issue 5715

Independent View of the News

The worsening political situation in the US, Japanese PM Abe's cascading rating and Facebook's data-sharing controversy induced a broad stock market decline on Monday.

The violent breakout from Inside Day to an Inside Day that we warned about in Monday's missive occurred yesterday.

Stocks opened lower and continued to plunge on Monday. The usual Monday jigginess and opening dip buying were absent. The decline persisted until the early afternoon. After FB violated its 200-day MA of 172.54 and dropped to 170.06, the usual stock-rescue expedition commenced.

Bitcoin

- relief from G-20 – don't want to regulate
- <http://www.xbt.money/snowden-on-bitcoin-blasts-public-ledger-and-core-developers/>
- dueling celebrities on future
- 8700 - no way intelligence agencies give this p before the election
- Snowden still pushing israeli backed ZCash coin.

More MUSICAL CHAIRS IN DC

HR McMaster out, Neocon John Bolton in tariffs on up to $60bn in annual imports from China
Rex Tillerson departs State Department
Gary Cohn out at National Economic Council. Blankfein out at Goldman as of the end of the year
John Dowd, the president's lead lawyer on the special counsel investigation resigned from Trump's legal team.

War in Syria and Iran – Is trump building a war cabinet? Discuss with Lawrence Wilkerson

Ever notice that the more Q says we are draining the swamp, the more the swamp takes over.

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - The U.S. Senate joined the House of Representatives early on Friday in passing a $1.3 trillion government funding bill with large increases in military and non-defense programs, sending it to President Donald Trump for enacting into law. AVOIDS A SHUTDOWN.

Said to be some very disturbing gun control provisions – have to see

GUNS - Afraid of money issues or pedophilia? SAME ENERGY AS WATCHING KEMP BLACKMAILED during Franklin Cover Up
Wiener laptop?

IN HOUSE BILL by Republican House Speaker Paul Ryan, Congress just struck the largest blow to the Second Amendment since Barack Obama took power nine years ago.

“The House voted today 256 to 167 to pass the Brady-NICS GUN CONTROL scheme in H.R. 1625.

This all happened following Speaker Ryan's surprise effort to tack Feinstein-backed GUN CONTROL on to the trillion dollar “must pass” omnibus spending bill.

Let me tell you this was VERY close

Following the rejection of pro-gun Congressman Thomas Massie's proposal to strip the gun control provisions”

Spending bill – VERY QUIET pension bailout for multiemployer plans– discuss below when I get to pension funds.

Tillerson leaves State.

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - Outgoing U.S. Secretary of State Rex Tillerson left the State Department on Thursday, calling Washington a “mean-spirited town” but saying nothing about President Donald Trump in his farewell remarks to department employees.

Although it was Tillerson’s last day at the State Department, he retains the title of secretary of state until March 31, just over a year since he began the job.

Trump fired Tillerson last week via a tweet, capping months of friction over policy on North Korea, Russia and Iran. Trump named CIA Director Mike Pompeo as Tillerson’s successor.

“This can be a very mean-spirited town but you don’t have to choose to participate in that,” Tillerson told staff gathered in the lobby of the State Department, his comments interrupted by loud applause. “Each of us get to choose the person we want to be and the way we want to be treated and the way we will treat others,” he said.

Tillerson problems – primarily Ziocons and Clintonistas gunning, not close personal chemistry with Trump, both were new to government and opposition to numerous policies, including war with Iran.

[Serious strategic mistake by Trump on how he handled Tillerson’s departure – week after Tillerson’s dad died – Tillerson is a strong man so he will be fine. Makes Trump look like a creature from the movie They Live – fake news reporting made the whole town look like the Movie They Live]

Since his firing, Tillerson has pointedly declined to thank Trump for giving him the opportunity to run the State Department. He made no mention of the president in his remarks.

Tillerson, who has delegated his responsibilities to his deputy, John Sullivan, met Pompeo on Monday.

Pompeo’s nomination hearing is expected to take place as soon as April 12.

Trade Wars – Very Important to Watch

This week - Trump despite heavy pressure from business lobbies announces tariff against China

China hit back

China responds to Trump tariffs with proposed list of 128 US products to target

- China on Friday announced plans for reciprocal tariffs on 128 U.S. products that include pork, wine, fruit and steel.
- Beijing said it will take measures against the U.S. goods in two stages if it cannot reach an agreement with Washington.

Jonathan Ernst | Reuters

Beijing will take measures against the 128 U.S. goods in two stages if it cannot reach an agreement with Washington, the ministry said, adding that it could take legal action under World Trade Organization rules.

Asian stock markets took a dive on the news, with Japan's Nikkei index sliding as much as 3 percent in early Friday trade.

The Friday response from Beijing is relatively measured, experts told CNBC.

The decision to target $3 billion in U.S. imports is significant, "but it's not a lot in terms of the total U.S.-China relationship," said economist Tony Nash, who is CEO and founder of data analytics firm Complete Intelligence.

Chinese imports from the U.S. are expected to hit $172 billion this year, he pointed out.

Significant number of corporate associations from Chamber of Commerce on out coming out against trade wars

Is rising interest rates a bankers “tariff”?

China – how will they handle high debt load and owing dollars?

Their response – building independent liquidity for yaun – West does not want them out of the dollar debt trap box – that is how they control

US FARMERS GETTING HURT BY CANCELLATION OF TPP,
Now China Tariffs, Russia anti GMO ag marketing – more on that with Joseph

Yuan Petrol contract in Shanghai – See News Trends and Stories for Annual Wrap Up for all the things China is doing, including with Russia, to build an independent liquid global currency and market presence – coming after the core Anglo American strong hold- financial liquidity.
Financial Coup, bailouts and corruption has created opening for China.

How China Is About to Shake Up the Oil Futures Market

By

Sungwoo Park

March 7, 2018, 7:10 PM CST

China, the world’s biggest oil buyer, is opening a domestic market to trade futures contracts. It’s been planning one for years, only to encounter delays. The Shanghai International Energy Exchange, a unit of Shanghai Futures Exchange, will be known by the acronym INE and will allow Chinese buyers to lock in oil prices and pay in local currency. Also, foreign traders will be allowed to invest -- a first for China’s commodities markets -- because the exchange is registered in Shanghai’s free trade zone. There are implications for the U.S. dollar’s well-established role as the global currency of the oil market.

1. When will trading begin?

From March 26. Daytime trading hours will be from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m. local time and at night from 9 p.m. through 2:30 a.m. The push for oil futures gained impetus in 2017 when China surpassed the U.S. as the world's biggest crude importer. The Asian nation's purchases reached a record high last month. Seven grades will be deliverable, including Dubai crude, Oman crude, Basrah light oil and China's Shengli oil. The contracts will have 36 delivery months with the first 12 months as rolling contracts.

Top Oil Buyer

China surpasses U.S. as world's biggest crude importer
Sources: China's General Administration of Customs, U.S. EIA

2. Why is this important for China?

Futures trading would wrest some control over pricing from the main international benchmarks, which are based on dollars. Denominating oil contracts in yuan would promote the use of China's currency in global trade, one of the country's key long-term goals. And China would benefit from having a benchmark that reflects the grades of oil that are mostly consumed by local refineries and differ from those underpinning Western contracts.

3. How do oil futures work?

Futures contracts fix prices today for delivery at a later date. Consumers use them to protect against higher prices down the line; speculators use them to bet on where prices are headed. In 2017, oil futures contracts in New York and London outstripped physical trading by a factor of 23. Crude oil is among the most actively traded commodities, with two key benchmarks: West Texas Intermediate, or WTI, which trades on the New York Mercantile Exchange, and Brent crude, which trades on ICE Futures Europe in London.

4. Why didn't China begin trading futures until now?

Lower crude prices have played a part. Chinese oil futures were proposed in 2012 following spikes above $100 a barrel, but prices in 2017 have averaged little more than $50. There's also concern over volatility. China introduced domestic crude futures in 1993, only to stop a year later because of volatility. In recent years, it repeatedly delayed its new contract amid turmoil in equities and financial markets. Such destabilizing moves have often prompted China's government to intervene in markets in one way or another.

5. What's China's track record in commodities?

Nickel was the last major commodity to be listed there in 2015; within six weeks, trading in Shanghai surpassed benchmark futures on the London Metal Exchange, or LME. In China, speculators play a far greater role, boosting trading volumes but making markets susceptible to volatility. In early 2016, the then-head of the LME said it was possible some Chinese traders did not even know what they were trading as investors piled into everything from steel reinforcement bars to iron ore. Steep price rises relented when China intervened with tighter trading rules, higher fees and shorter trading hours.

6. Will foreigners buy Chinese oil futures?

That remains to be seen. Overseas oil producers and traders would need to swallow not just China's penchant for occasional market interventions but also its capital controls. Restrictions on moving money in and out of the country have been tightened in the past two years after a shock devaluation of the yuan in 2015 prompted a surge in money leaving the mainland. Similar hurdles have kept foreign investors as bit players in China's giant stock and bond markets. In another shift in for commodities markets, China recently approved a plan to allow overseas investors to trade directly in mainland iron ore contracts.

7. Could the yuan challenge the dollar's dominance in oil?

Not any time soon, since paying for oil in dollars is an entrenched practice, according to some analysts. Shady Shaher, head of macro strategy at Dubai-based lender Emirates NBD PJSC, says it makes sense in the long run to look at transactions in yuan because China is a key market, but it will take years. Bloomberg Gadfly columnist David Fickling argues that China doesn't have "nearly the influence in the oil market needed to carry out such a coup." On the other hand, paying in yuan for oil could become part of President Xi Jinping's "One Belt, One Road" initiative to develop ties across Eurasia, including the Middle East. Chinese participation in Saudi Aramco's planned initial public offering could help sway Saudi opinion toward accepting yuan, which is used in only about 2 percent of global payments.

- QuickTakes on the Silk Road and China's capital controls.

— With assistance by Dan Murtaugh, Serene Cheong, and Sarah Che

Social Media hammer time:

Major brouhaha which I have little interest in – never had integrity, was never meant to have integrity – was always going to be a vacuum cleaner of personal data for the databeast – that was the goal – surveillance, control of markets, political control

Facebook – it was set up to feed the databeast that was its purpose from the beginning – why be shocked?

Why is anyone on it?

EU – big taxes on social media, tech, privacy policy

Midianite thing Roaring as PURGES continue – along with media efforts to make everyone look nuts

1. Digging through Russia into the real story of interference in the election– Guardian story

Cambridge Analytica – Israeli Intelligence

What was the interference of Israeli government and intelligence in US election

Video on Wilkerson interview next week with the problem of Israel

Other foreign government and intelligence interference?

2. McCabe ordered a criminal investigation of Sessions? GOP House demanding second counsel to look into Mueller on Uranium One

FBI and DOJ politics are intense right now – likely to get worse.

3. Trying Trump sex scandal – will not work – consenting adults – who cares relative to pedophilia

4. War with Iran – the More Q promises that the swamp is being drained, the more power the Neocons get and the more we look like we are going to war.

RUSSIA, RUSSIA, MORE RUSSIA

Putin Election

US & British sanctions supportive of Putin landslide

The Dazzling Weapons Race:

Putin in Presidential Address prior to Election

Trump in San Diego – weapons you don't know about

Big Business – competitors for arms sales and space

US business is war --record $75.9 billion arms sales, 34% of the global arms market 2013 - 2017.

Russia is #2 market share has fallen to 22%, the second-highest.

Competition for Middle east – making sales to Egypt, Turkey, Qatar considering buy

China's is 6% and growing

Starting a War with Russia?

EU Supports May –recalls Envoy from Russia

The Russian Military Warns: a Major War in Syria Is Imminent

By Arkady Savitsky

March 22, 2018 "Information Clearing House" -On March 17, the Russian General Staff warned about an imminent attack on Syria. The statement did not elaborate. Of course, some information is classified but an independent and impartial analysis of publicly available information leads one to the same conclusion. Let's look at the facts.

There are warships deployed by US Navy in the Red Sea, the Mediterranean, and the Persian Gulf. They are ready to launch roughly 400 long-range Tomahawks against a target in the Middle East on any given day. Sea-launched cruise missiles were used to strike Syria in April. Anything that is at all related to the military operations on the island of Diego Garcia in the Indian Ocean is hush-hush information, but it's an open secret that the strategic bombers based there can launch at least a hundred cruise missiles and then use other high-precision munitions in a follow-up attack. On average, one bomber carries 20 AGM-86 ALCMs. Five bombers are believed to be normally stationed on this island that is off-limits to inquisitive outsiders. This means that at least 500 cruise missiles can be fired on short notice.

On March 17, Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov declared that Great Britain, France, and some additional countries besides the US had special forces operating in Syria that were engaging the Syrian Army directly. But it's not just commandos.

Are You Tired Of The Lies And Non-Stop Propaganda?

Get Your FREE Daily Newsletter

It was reported on March 16 that the UK would be stationing a significant number of troops at the US-controlled Al-Tanf military base, adjacent to the Iraqi border. This facility is prominently featured in NATO's war planning in Syria. It blocks the corridor linking Iran to Lebanon via Syria and Iraq. The size of the deployment — about 2,300 troops accompanied by tanks and helicopters — is too significant just to be intended to fight Islamic State militants who are already on the run.

Before that, the US had already sent 600 troops with armored vehicles to the base. And American reinforcements have also been sent to the Omar oil field.

On March 12, US Ambassador to the UN Nikki Haley threatened military action against Syria. Experience has shown that the US will strike first and think about explanations later. It'll no doubt "invent" some pretext to justify its actions.

1/2

Tensions have risen since last week. For instance, the mainstream media raised a ruckus over a mysterious "large underground" North Korean military base in Syria! This story about Pyongyang helping Syria to rebuild its chemical stockpiles and other urban legends are going viral.

The escalation coincided with the March 16 meeting between the Russian, Iranian, and Turkish foreign ministers in Astana to discuss further plans to bring peace to Syria, including expanding the concept of the de-escalation zones. That meeting laid the ground for a summit in Istanbul on April 4. There are about two weeks still to go. This top-level event could produce landmark decisions that might foil the West's plans in Syria. Not much time is left. From the American perspective, this calls for urgent action to stymie that process.

Washington's plan includes the goal of partitioning Syria in such a way that a large chunk of it would remain under the control of the US-led coalition. The Americans are already assembling municipal councils on the lands east of the Euphrates River. This area must be retained at any cost in order to ensure that Washington has a say in the future settlement of this war-torn country, otherwise all the hard work put in so far will go down the drain, undercutting America's global standing and diminishing its clout in the Middle East. Losing Syria would be tantamount to suffering a major defeat in its confrontation with Iran, which it considers its arch-enemy. The plans include a rollback of Russian forces. Syria is the right place to do that. If the Russian military is openly warning the world of an imminent strike, that is a serious threat. And it does not look like a one-strike operation. This time we're in for something much more serious — a large-scale operation to "contain" Russia, beat back Iran, win the support of the rich oil-exporting Arab nations and make them pay huge sums for American weapons, and show the world the US is omnipresent and adamant in its desire to dictate its will.

Pension Funds

/congress-just-quietly-formed-committee-bail-out-200-pension-funds

Headwinds with website, mail and numerous other aspects of our systems and business....

- - Feels just like 2008 and Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac takeover
- SF Manager $1 billion loss
- Can we enforce $21 trillion through courts? Difficult

But no one says we have to keep buying Treasuries in our IRAs, 401ks and pension funds

This is a very sensitive subject

What I say in the pension fund article –

Everyone global can read it and ask the same question.

The balance sheet they are financing is disappearing the assets...do you think the sovereign wealth funds of the world in aggregate can not decide to stop buying treasuries in response to understanding that the money is being laundered out the back door?

French Purges

Former President Sarkozy arrested? What goes around comes around – IMO he was protected by the Strauss Kahn arrest.

Saudi Purges

Prince Bandar Death – suicide at airport - gruesome

Austin bomber

I am suspicious – a new attack on Home Schooling?

WEINSTEIN FILES FOR BANKRUPTCY

Schmidt, Weinstein – Clinton backers dropping like flies

Clinton madness – Depolarable II statement about deplorables, including white women in India

Jack Burkman, the leader of the controversial investigation into the murder of former DNC staffer Seth Rich, was shot twice in the back and run over by a man who claimed to have worked as a special agent in the Department of Energy, authorities say.

Burkman was attacked in the Rosslyn Marriott hotel parking garage in Washington, D.C. on Mar. 13, lured to the spot by promises of secret documents on the Clintons by an FBI whistleblower.

UBER – Halted self driving car testing as pedestrian was killed

Which was it – insecure software or hacked by a competitor? In this case not a short seller – but don't think that short sellers will not be doing that along the way

METAPHOR FOR THE WHOLE ECONOMY? Cyberinsecurity from software industry, followed up with more harvesting by “solving the problem” Snake – snake potion economy.

TOTAL BS ON SES SYSTEM – please don't send me that video. Tom Paine of American Intelligence System – Harry interviewed

Book Reviews -

Under an Ionized Sky – Harry recorded interview

Comments on Book Review of THE PAPACY

Why I read.

Comments

Catherine

I wonder if any of the documents that were in the Alexandria Library found its way to the Vatican Library.

VERY IMPORTANT QUESTION – DISCUSSED WITH DR. FARRELL

Dear Catherine, I am an adherent of your character and an admirer of your many and generous works. However, your aspersions on the Catholic Church are appalling. Having grown up in Philadelphia, you may be knowledgeable of the War on Catholic Political Power that started in the post WWII era. The Quaker and Episcopalian group of families, the ruling class or oligarchy still directed the affairs of the City. 'Reform' to the progressives, meant taking on the Bolshevist social theories brought here by the pseudo professors expelled from Germany. To the ruling class, the sudden appearance of a Catholic mayor, a Catholic governor, and a Catholic president had to be answered. 'We had to do it.' the serious men said. Similar to moving the Syrian refugees into Europe, moving 6 million black Americans from the South to the big Northeastern cities, including Chicago became the ethnic cleansing offensive to clear Catholic power out of the City, under the cover of politically correct Urban Renewal. I don't think this story is understood. JFK, RFK, John Jr. were all murdered in front of our eyes and still, no one knows why? The offensive against Catholic Political and Economic Power exists today.

Fitts:

What you describe is indeed true. There was an excellent book on the topic – I gave a glowing review of it on the Solari Report – HUD was one of the vehicles they used. It is a very devastating impact on so many communities.

However, the fact is that as a young person, what I saw and experienced was the very dark side of the Catholic church. – The Church, the masons and the Jews were deep in bed with the intelligence agencies, bringing in the drugs targeting the black neighborhoods and ultimately all young people, and running the money.

Check out the pedophilia litigation related to the Catholic Church in Philadelphia – the record is highly documented and is extensive. The story IMO was not the priests – they were running a control file system. That plus hit teams was the cost effective way to run such an enormous criminal cash flow/enterprise and keep everyone on board.

I do believe the masons, jews the intelligence agencies got a hold of the telco networks and dumped most of the blame for the pedophilia – as I have described it is unfair for them to not share the blame.

However the Church was deep deep in criminal enterprise. Kicking the nuns out of control of their assets and operations with Vatican II helped take the criminality to a whole new level.

I never saw the good side as a young person – I only saw the demonic side. It was there. Several years ago I went to the Vatican for the tour and then left and spent several days in Assisi. Something was very wrong at the Vatican. Assisi was filled with the Holy Spirit – an amazing place.

This is our challenge – the demonic and the divine are both present in many institutions. If there were not it would be much easier to see the demonic and deal with it.

Catherine,

I was raised Roman Catholic, and attended both grade school and high school in that faith. It did not take me long to understand the misconception that said church was operating on. Saint Peter was never given the office of a Pontiff or a leader. The words "Petra" and "Petras" are two different words, denoting a person and a rock. The only Rock in the Christian church is Jesus, and perverting the words enabled the Roman Catholic church to sell the beliefs that one had to follow a team of popes, priests, saints, etc. in order to earn heaven. The entity became more important than the Person of Christ. The Catholic Church has been corrupted for ages, along with asking for money for "indulgences", "scapulars", "relics", "statues", etc. that people had to purchase to have someone other than Jesus go to God for the purchaser,; to intercede for their sins. Calvin, Luther, and Knox all knew this and paid the price for rebelling.

The Vatican is one of the biggest money launderers today, with very few people living in it that think about Christ. All of the paintings, and artifacts have been leased to pay for pedophile claims. They have gone into what was called “Peter’s Coffers” to pay for attorneys for all the clergy within, who are being sued. There is a large gay group in the Vatican that avails itself of all the Romanian young men in the neighborhood. Nothing much of spirituality is playing out there. Many books are out now talking about the corruption; and it is beyond me that people who are still Roman Catholic will just look at me and say that it is the “one true religion”. Jesus is never mentioned and the Bible is rarely read. They have no idea that the masses were not allowed to read the Bible.....a monk had to interpret it ! For a price paid! You are absolutely right in your interpretation of the Roman Church today. Will it be corrected? Not with a Pope at the head of it,..... who is a globalist, (instead of a religious leader), and still does not allow priests to marry. I had a family member who was molested by a priest; and I can tell you that the diocese denied it . Absolute power corrupts. These people need to go and read the “real” church history from the time that the Apostles died. It will curl their hair! How fortunate I am to have been freed from this; and am able to worship with the knowledge that the Lord hears me without the blather of saints, and popes!

Fitt

Yes....direct communication is the way to go. A great church can support us doing so. However it begins with our intimate relationship!

SAME OFFENSE ON TRUMP COMMENTS

Have to put faith in our own daily actions – not in centralized institutions. Get out of cult like support for centralized anything.

MIND CONTROL = we love our killers, we finance our killers, we make excuses for our killers....keep coming out of the trance. We can do it!

30 SECOND BREAK

Hero This Week

WC Fields

Carry whiskey because of a Snake bite – also carry a snake

Problem reaction – solution

PART OF THE BIG SQUEEZE

Breaking the economy – Comment to HUD leadership – If you want to help communities simply shut down the agency – you have a negative return on investment – taxing people and then spending the money in a manner that shrinks the pie

We need to STOP doing all the things that do harm.

30 SECOND BREAK

Let's Go to the Movies

Vertical Farming - ambivalent about it. Would love to see far more gardens and edible landscapes. Much more NON industrial food creatio

Some of the things that Dr. Altieri discusses are the challenges to urban areas to provide fresh, local food. One response to the demand is the growing phenomenon of vertical farming. In Let's Go to the Movies, take a look at documentary, The Rise of Vertical Farming, which addresses how farmers and entrepreneurs are exploring indoor farming in cities in Asia, Europe, the Middle East and North America.

INTERVIEW

INTERVIEW

Trip to Mexico with Harry and Miguel

From Chile – fully educated in the disaster capitalism of globalism

Look into campesinos

corporate model + centralization of retirement management + 5% psychopaths = bad combination

“The final requirement of an ecological agriculture is an evolved, conscious human being whose attitude towards nature is that of co-existence, not exploitation.” ~ Dr. Miguel Altieri

This Thursday, Harry Blazer interviews an outstanding leader in the world of fresh food, intelligent agriculture and a human future, Dr. Miguel Atieri.

Dr. Altieri is a professor in the Department of Environmental Science, Policy and Management at University of California, Berkeley. He has extensive knowledge and experience working with farmers and students throughout North and South America.

Dr. Altieri is the founder of Agroecology:

Agroecology is a scientific discipline that uses ecological theory to study, design, manage and evaluate agricultural systems that are productive but also resource conserving. Agroecological research considers interactions of all important biophysical, technical and socioeconomic components of farming systems and regards these systems as the fundamental units of study, where mineral cycles, energy transformations, biological processes and socioeconomic relationships are analyzed as a whole in an interdisciplinary fashion.

Agroecology is concerned with the maintenance of a productive agriculture that sustains yields and optimizes the use of local resources while minimizing the negative environmental and socio-economic impacts of modern technologies. In industrial countries, modern agriculture with its yield maximizing high-input technologies generates environmental and health problems that often do not serve the needs of producers and consumers. In developing countries, in addition to promoting environmental degradation, modern agricultural technologies have bypassed the circumstances and socio-economic needs of large numbers of resource-poor farmers. (From What is Agroecology?)

This interview will give you the facts about o and what is fresh, healthy food, which so greatly differs from most current developed world food production and distribution. Special thanks to Harry Blazer for once again bringing us the very finest people in the world of food and a human future.

30 SECOND BREAK

ASK CATHERINE

Catherine

Sec of State Tillerson goes to visit San Carlos de Bariloche, Argentina that was surrounded in some secrecy in February and a month later is fired by President Trump.

Is there a connection? Many Presidents and Secretary of States have visited before Tillerson even Pres. Obama

IMO UNLIKELY – disagreement on Syrian and Iran; Israel, perhaps Russia (he came out in support of May_ not a good idea if Trump did not want that)

Catherine

What do you think the chances are that Gina Haspel will become the head of the CIA?

With her background of being involved in the rendition program that used enhanced interrogation techniques she brings heavy baggage getting nominated.

Or is Pres. Trump putting her name for consideration of that position to put John Brennan in the headlights as he supported enhanced interrogation and terrorism suspects sent to countries where they might have been tortured?

It seems Brennan and Haspel do have a working relationship as in 2013 Brennan named her as Acting Director of National Clandestine Service.

So what do you think? Pres. Trump really wants this lady for the CIA or is he setting a trap for John Brennan?

Don't have a read yet – need to see how Pompeo's goes

GOAL IS TO HAVE POMPEO INTEGRATION BETWEEN CIA AND STATE – Haspel is POMPEO's choice for deputy. Most logical reason she was chosen? Given resume extensive knowledge of full CIA operations – knows where bodies are buried. Hard to get your arms around what is really going on because of so much secrecy and size of hidden system of finance and contractors. Everyone on a need to know basis. Secrets are most dangerous in the world if disclosed.

Dear Catherine, all I can say, Ive listened Sofia's podcast where you were telling of how corrupted is the government. It is not news at all, and this is not the point. The point being is that you said we don't die but rather we transit to another stage. I am into anything non-physical in a big way as well as into investing strategies pursuing freedom from slavery and conscious/moral approach to generate passive income. I love the idea that there are people who possess these 2 qualities: knowledge how the system works so as not to be burdened by it, and spiritual perspective in life. We are being brainwashed SO much! Anything that relates to asset allocation is infested with bad advices and even so called investing "gurus" say one thing and do completely the opposite. Go figure who is right. Thanks for reading this. And thanks for associating with John R. in your podcasts, listening his voice puts me to sleep faster. Good luck with all your endeavors. Ill keep an eye on updates. Regards. Vlad.

Hi Catherine:

Thank you for sharing the links on 5G and other technology. I am attaching the article I published to the Reddit "Q" group.

I am working now on an article on Consciousness ...it's a big topic. I will send it forward when it's completed.

Joseph said you were asking for prayers...you defiantly have mine. I will be meeting with a group of serious prayers and I'll put your name on our list. My heart and thoughts are with you. Keep us informed please.

Love is forever,

Katie

5-G - MORE AND MORE DISTURBING

Hi Catherine - Here is the weather forecast for Santa Barbara / Montecito. These huge rain fall totals in such a focused are SO unusual. 12% of very upscale Montecito was damaged or destroyed just two months ago. Now this upcoming rain event looks very ominous and thousands of people will be under mandatory evacuation beginning tomorrow at noon.

image1.jpeg

They've been chem trailing consistently for the last week over Southern California now this. Since we CAN control and direct weather patterns, you HAVE to wonder what's behind this One-Two Punch for them. Montecito has always been in a kind of protective bubble - a modern Camelot. Now let's see what happens fingers crossed for a good outcome!! All the Best! Rebel Commander BTW ... I LOVED your interview with John Rappaport!

Hello, I am 35 year old working single family and am trying to educate myself on how I can diversify my savings/retirement. I have a 401 k that I contribute to as well as an IRA. I have a friend who is recommending I start investing in silver. When I ask my parents they tell me that silver is ok to have but to rely more on the stock market/saving the traditional way. I'm torn because I always heed my parents advice because they are wiser (in their 70's) and have always steered me in the right direction. I'm just not sure what to do. Thank you so much for your time

BEST BOOKS ON INVESTMENT – What is the history and why

Your turning and + and + and into either or - Montier – history of returns – balance and diversification – there is no magi bullet

Dear Solari Team, I know you are working hard on your website, and also know this issue is important to you. Prayers and blessi <https://www.battleforthenet.com/?call=1> Helpful calling points from the site below include: - Ask to speak to a member of the legislative staff -Mention specific things instead of general ideas. For instance, you don't need to use the words "net neutrality." Instead say you are calling about the FCC's 2015 Open Internet Order. <https://www.theverge.com/2017/12/12/16767298/net-neutrality-how-to-call-congress>

Catherine,

Thanks for keepin' it real, w/o all the hype.

Sorry, this is the only way I could find to reach you. Have you tried any of the Blueshield devices in his book?

I'm particularly interested in the cube. But, evidently there's no objective means to tell.

Grateful for any info.

Brian

Reported by e-mail

Positive results – have 3 for house, travel and car

I have not heard you discuss the "urban renewal" beginning in the 50s. I assume this was part of the beginning of the harvest?

Yes.

Hi Catherine,

If you have 2 minutes I would be interested in you becoming aware of what I am working on.

https://youtu.be/dUuY_X8-kQk

Cheers,

Father Spirit – I loved it – posted at solari

Hello Catherine:

I just finished listening to your interview with Jon. It was excellent as always. Jon's insights are a gift he helps all of us see more clearly. I used his logic lesson in my classes the students loved it.

I also want to keep you updated about two of my retirement projects. 1. I'm in correspondence with Elana Freeland about an article I am researching for a blog. The theme is 5G technology and consciousness. If I ever get it together I will be sure to send you a copy. After all you and your interviews are my inspiration. 2. I have a call into Congressman Ron DeSantis' local representative(he's my state Rep.). I am going to ask if I can volunteer for his team. He's running for Governor and most likely needs lots of help. My long range plan is to get the materials on working with local governments and teach other retirees like me how to effectively work with city/county government. I figure having the future Governor's blessing cannot hurt. I will keep you posted on that one.

Are you going to have a NY city luncheon this year? Please let me know the date so I can save my pennies and hopefully join you there.

NO PLANS FOR NOW

30 SECOND BREAK

CLOSING

March 29th The National Security State: What's Next: Colonel Lawrence Wilkerson

April 5th 1st Quarter Wrap Up: News Trends & Stories, Part I with Dr. Joseph Farrell

April 12th 1st Quarter Wrap Up: News Trends & Stories, Part II with Dr. Joseph Farrell

April 19th 1st Quarter Wrap Up: Equity Overview

April 26th 1st Quarter Wrap Up: The Space Based Economy

Harry Blazer with Elana Freeland on Space Fence, Edwin Viera on the Malitias, and Dave Lidorff on Abacus Bank – an amazing story of a fine family that stood down another malicious prosecution.

BEST OF ALL – TOMORROW GET YOUR NEW

PASSWORK AND START ENJOYING THE NEW SOLARI
REPORT WEBSITE

Until next week...

`Great quote came in this week:

If you think you're too small to be effective, you have never been in bed with a mosquito.

Please remember, don't worry about whether or not there is a conspiracy.

If you are not in a conspiracy, then you need to start one.

Good night and good luck.

